Young men often come prepared on parts of the Junior and Senior studies, and have neglected some of the Sophomore and Freshman studies.

The course of study in this department is intended to embrace a thorough English Education. Young men, therefore, who desire to qualify themselves for business, or for entering any of the College classes, have every advantage for acquiring the elements of Philosophy and Mathematics, as well as the Grammar, Logic and Rhetoric of the English Language. It may be proper, also, to state, that the Students in the English Department will have the privilege of attending the Lectures, Recitations and Experimental Demonstrations of any of the other departments, so far as they may come within the general scope and objects of the English course.

MENTAL AND MORAL DISCIPLINE.

With regard to the mode of instruction adopted in all the departments of the College, the Board take this occasion to remark, that it is designed to elicit the mental resources of the Student. The recitations are conducted with a rigid attention to accuracy. More regard is paid to the quality than the quantity of the recitations.

The Students are required to attend every morning in the Hall to the reading of the Scriptures and Prayer, accompanied, frequently, with religious instruction and exhortation, designed to keep before their minds the importance of their personal salvation, with their responsibility to God and dependance on Him for success, usefulness and happiness. On the Sabbath they are required to attend on public worship, with that Church which their parents may direct, or they themselves prefer. There is, also, a meeting on Sabbath morning for Prayer, and reading the New Testament in the original Greek.

Mental discipline is kept steadily in view, as a primary object.—Strict discipline is enforced, and diligence and industry, on the part of the Students, encouraged.

DEPARTMENTS OF LAW AND PHYSIOLOGY.

Two Professorships have been created within the past year, and the Professors, JOHN L. GOW, Esq. and JAMES KING, M. D. have regularly delivered Lectures. The former on Municipal Law—the latter on Comparative Anatomy and Hygiene. These Lectures are especially designed for the higher classes in College, but may be attended by any Student who desires it. They are continued throughout each Session, alternately, at intervals of a fortnight.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

It is understood, that if any person does not wish to take a full course, he may be permitted to attach himself to any class, for the purpose of studying particular branches.

The scheme of studies, it will be observed, is such as to place the College on a footing with the most respectable Literary Institutions of the East. There are three Libraries, containing about 3,000 volumes, connected with the College. There is, also, a Cabinet, containing numerous specimens of Minerals, Petrifications, Shells, Coins, Indian, Eastern and African Antiquities, and a variety of articles, to which additions are constantly making. A Telescope, with additional Philosophical and Chemical Apparatus, has been procured lately, as auxiliary to the thorough study of those Sciences to which they relate.

The College Buildings consist of two large edifices, one of which was erected within a few years, and now recently, at very considerable expense, has been much enlarged and modified, so as to improve, greatly, the tasteful appearance of the exterior, whilst it affords seven additional spacious rooms for the various purposes connected with the operations of the College. In the new edifice two large Halls and adjoining Library Rooms have been appropriated to the exclusive use of the Literary Societies of the College. The Halls are finished and decorated with taste, and in a manner worthy of the purposes to which they are devoted; and in all respects equal to those of any similar associations in the country.

It is the determination of the Board, that the various departments shall be kept up. The respective Chairs are well filled, and the Trustees flatter themselves that few Institutions in the country offer greater facilities for the acquisition of a thorough education, than Washington College.

The stated Vacations are during April and October. The Winter Session opens on the first Monday of November;—the Summer Session, on the first Monday of May.

Boarding varies in price, according to the accommodations afforded. It may be had in Washington as cheap as at any place in the West—the quality being the same. In the College it does not exceed $1,50 per week, and in private clubs Students may board themselves at from 50 to 75 cents per week.

Tuition, $15 per Session. English Department, $10 50. Tuition always paid in advance.

Gentlemen at a distance, who may wish more particular information, will please to address Rev. DAVID M'CONAUGHY, D. D. President of the College; Rev. DAVID ELLIOTT, D. D. President of the Board of Trustees; or Dr. R. R. REED, Secretary of the Board.

WASHINGTON, the seat of the location of Washington College, is situated near the Western border of Pennsylvania, upon the National Road; easy of access in all directions; and in point of morals, cheapness of living, healthful climate and situation, and in every other respect, no place is more suitable for the purposes of education.

The Commencement will take place this Fall on Wednesday, 27th of September. The annual Address to the ALUMNI ASSOCIATION will be delivered on the evening preceding.

That of the LITERARY SOCIETIES will be on the day of Commencement, by JOHN S. HART, Esq. of Philadelphia.
